PATRICK FAULKNER

Patrick was in a near fatal car accident this summer in which he suffered massive injuries. He was airlifted to the Kalispell hospital where he was slowly recovering with extensive therapy but his insurance is no longer covering he expenses. While he is presently home in Libby and has returned to school on a part time basis, he faces continuing medical bills....

SARAH KIRSCHENMANN

Sarah suffers from a rare joint disease in her right knee called Pigmented Villonodular synovitis (PVNS) which causes inflammation and grows tumors in the knee. If left untreated, it can cause damage to the tissue and bones. There is no cure. Sarah recently had her third knee surgery in Chicago. She faces a future of many more.
